If you want to make sure your dogfart passwords are more secure, there are a few things you can do. Firstly, go to https://dogfart.com and register for free! Once you're logged in, it's worth clicking on your username and making sure that no one else from the same IP address or network is also signed in. You should also be able to change your password from the settings page of your account.

I would suggest changing the passwords for all of your social media accounts too.

And finally, change your password on Dogfart! If you have 2 factor authentication activated, you will need to use the second level of security by authenticating via an app or website instead of just by entering a password. If this is set up properly, you should be able to change your password without even logging into Dogfart first.

If you want to make sure that everyone that knows your dogfart password can't see it, then click here for instructions on how to create a temporary account.

When using 2FA with Dogfart, make sure you keep it locked down. Let's look at the different ways you can lock it down.

Make sure that you aren't using the same password for both your Dogfart account and 2FA. We recommend that you use two totally random passwords, one for your Dogfart account, and one for 2FA.

If you don't want anyone to know what your 2FA code is, then don't write it down! If you do decide to write it down, remember where you put it! You should always have your phone with you so that if someone gets hold of the code they won't be able to use it unless they also get access to your phone.

Do the same with your Dogfart password. If you share that with anyone else, then they will be able to log in and use your Dogfart account.

To make sure your Dogfart password and 2FA (if you're using one) are kept safe, we recommend changing them on a regular basis. Going back to the first point about how often you use a new password for social media accounts too, this is another reason why we recommend having 2 different passwords for Dogfart and all of your social media accounts.

So if someone gets hold of either of those passwords, they can't just login to Dogfart and start using it.

Sharing your Dogfart password with anyone, even your family or home computer, can cause big problems. And if they know the password to your social media accounts, they might be able to see some of your private messages on Dogfart too.

You should always use a VPN when using Dogfart. Using a VPN will also help keep your passwords safe too!

Using HTTPS on Dogfart is very important because if you aren't on HTTPS then someone who's watching can see all of the data that passes between you and Dogfart.
